Senate Committees: Categories and Rules for Committee Assignments

Judy Schneider Specialist on the Congress Government and Finance Division

Senate Rule XXV and party conference rules address committee assignments. Senate Rule XXV, paragraphs 2 and 3 establish categories of committees, popularly referred to as "A", "B", and "C", that condition assignment rules.

A COMMITTEES	B COMMITTEES	C COMMITTEES
Agriculture, Nutrition and Forestry	Budget	Select Ethics
Appropriations	Rules and Administration	Indian Affairs
Armed Services	Small Business and Entrepreneurship	Joint Taxation
Banking, Housing and Urban Affairs	Veterans' Affairs	(Joint Library and Joint Printing are not listed, but are treated as C committees
Commerce, Science and	Special Aging	for assignment purposes)
Transportation	Select Intelligence
Energy and Natural Resources	Joint Economic Committee
Environment and Public Works
Finance
Foreign Relations
Governmental Affairs
Health, Education, Labor, and Pensions
Judiciary

Number of Assignments: Senate Rule XXV, paragraph 4, places restrictions on committee membership based on these categories.

- Each Senator shall serve on two committees, and no more than two, in Class A.
- Each Senator may serve on one committee, but no more than one, in Class B.
- ! Each Senator may serve on one or more committees in Class C.

Limitations on Assignments:

- ! Super "A" or "Big Four" Committees: Democratic and Republican members are prohibited from serving on more than one among the Committees on Appropriations, Armed Services, Finance, and Foreign Relations pursuant to party rules.
- ! Republican Members from the same state are prohibited from serving on the same committee by Republican Conference rule. Democrats adhere to the same prohibition, but by tradition.
- ! Service on the Select Intelligence Committee is limited to no more than eight years of continuous service, as provided in the resolution creating the committee.

Limitations on Chairmanships: Republican Conference rules address limitations on committee leadership positions for Republicans whether or not they are in the majority. Democratic Conference rules may also address these limitations; however, their rules are not publicly available.

- ! A chair/ranking member of an "A" committee may not serve as chair or ranking member of any other committee, except the chair/ranking member of the Finance Committee may chair the Joint Committee on Taxation.
- ! A chair/ranking member of an "A" committee may not serve as chair/ranking member of any subcommittees. Appropriations subcommittee chairmanships are exempt.
- ! A chair/ranking member of a "non-A" committee may not serve as chair/ranking member of any other committee, except the chair/ranking member of the Rules and Administration Committee may chair the Joint Printing or Joint Library Committee.
- A chair/ranking member of a "non-A" committee, excluding Ethics, may not serve as chair/ranking member of more than one subcommittee. Appropriations subcommittee chairmanships are not exempt.
- ! The chair/vice chair of the Ethics Committee may serve on no more than two standing subcommittees.
- ! A Senator may not serve as chair/ranking member of more than two subcommittees.
- A Senator shall not serve more than 6 years as chair of any standing committee, effective January 1997, plus 6 years as ranking member of a committee. Once a Senator served 6 years chairing a committee, the term would be over. However, if a Senator served 6 years as a ranking minority member, the Senator could serve as chair if the party controls the chamber.

Limitations on Chair and Party Leader Assignments:

A chair or party leader may not select an "A" committee on their third round committee selection.
